John Du - Byk Chemie New Additive Technologies

Over the past few decades, dramatic Technology shifts have occurred in the coatings industry. Rapid changes in pigments, resins, and solvents have helped make environmentally friendly coatings possible; however, such changes have also created many technical hurdles.

An overview of new additive technologies is presented. Special emphasis is placed upon three areas - wetting and dispersing, surface flow and levelling, and defoaming. the chemical determinants of additive performance are outlined for a variety of new coatings. Not only will structure - performance correlations be discussed, but also practical examples will be displayed. Finally, there will be a discussion of the decision points necessary to determine the proper choice of additive.

John W. Du is the Technical Product Manager for the Paint Division of Byk - Chemie USA . He has more than 30 years of collective formulation experience in research, product development and technical service of compliant coatings for Automotive Oem , Refinish , General Industrial, Aluminum Extrusion, as well as formulation of pigment cocentrates for various markets. John received his B.S. in Chemistry from Westminster College and a M. Ed. form the University of Pittsburgh.

There will be a Tabletop on Byk- Chemie Products with data also.
